Moblize Selected for 2008 M2M (Machine 2 Machine) Top 100

Houston, TX: Dec. 08 – Moblize a leading provider of Advisory Services and vendor neutral real time solutions that help clients connect people, systems and remote assets fixed or mobile, announced today that it has been named to the prestigious 2008 M2M Magazine's M2M 100 list of the most important and influential companies offering solutions to connect people, systems and remote fixed/mobile assets. The M2M 100 list provides a snapshot of the companies with the greatest impact on its direction.

More than 300 companies were considered for the 2008 M2M 100 by the magazine's editors and its editorial advisory board. The rigorous selection process includes such criteria as market leadership, business-model strength and execution, and customer references. Honorees include Honeywell Corporation, IBM, Motorola and General Electric.

Moblize was selected for its strong vision, explosive growth and its innovative real time solutions which are being adopted by different industry verticals. Moblize Principal Amit Mehta explained, "This honor is particularly gratifying because it speaks to our core mission, that Moblize helps its customers create vendor neutral real time solutions which can provide new growth platforms to the organizations vs. merely reduce costs."

About M2M Magazine

M2M magazine is the only publication dedicated exclusively to covering the machine-to-machine communication industry, helping companies learn how to reduce costs and automate processes by networking their assets. M2M is published seven times per year and offers a wide array of feature articles, departments, and columns to tackle the industry from all angles. With focused editorial content and an award-winning team of designers and editors, M2M is the definitive resource for companies that want to harness the remarkable potential of this emerging technology.
